ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short-weight, adulterated or phosphated powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street New York. ad

Croup can always be prevented by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse. It is pleasant and safe to take and perfectly reliable. Price, 50 cents per bottle. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say: "Oh! its only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

THE LADIES' LAUNDRYING MACHINE.—Patented in the United States and Canada. The first Laundry Machine ever invented for family use having a Stationary Tub-rest, Patent Washer with Automatic Adjustment, a High Pressure Hard Rubber Wringer, Folding Clothes-rack, all combined in one patent, hence but one royalty. Sold only by parties owning territory. Manufactured by George & Tweedale, Constantine, Michigan. Doc. Benton, Sole Agent. al6*

Eli Barkley is daily receiving fresh strawberries. He has the finest naval oranges in the market, and all kinds of nuts, cigars, cigarettes, and the freshest of candies.

"Punch" the English pug dog with Prof. C. Norris is the only pug dog ever known to walk a rope. He walks a rope 12 feet long and 9 feet in mid air.

The ladies of St. Peter's Guild intend to make the party, May 17, at Armory Hall, a grand success. Strawberries and cream, ice cream soda and good music. Admission 50 cents.

Yesterday the dog show man placed his pet monkey on a new dog, and the dog ran away, threw the monkey and broke its leg. The broken bone was set by Dr. Guion.

"Trix" the imported English greyhound with Prof. Norris, leaps 14 feet 7 inches high by actual measurement, with the little Australian monkey "Jimey" perched upon her back.

"Little Fritz" king of dogs, is the most precious piece of dog flesh in the world to-day. Prof. Norris, his owner and trainer, has spent over seven years time on his training and values him at $7000.

Henry Dougherty, State Gardener, has been at work in the mountains putting in sand boxes and repairing the State water works; trying to save water enough to keep the grounds green as long as possible.

Not a fit, but an expression of delight. "About a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cal., druggist, "a Chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranteed that it would cure him. He came in again last night, and as soon as he got inside the door, began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but he finally stopped long enough to say: 'Medicine velly fine, velly fine; ally same make me feel plenty good.'" Chamberlain's Pain Balm is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism, aches, pains or lame back. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

FANNED TO SLEEP.

Shorty's Interesting Experience with Mr. Jackson.

The APPEAL regrets to announce that "Shorty" whose stage name is Cincaid, failed to remain in Mr. Jackson's company as long as his friends here expected.

When Mr. Jackson sat bent over in his corner with a big overcoat over him, he was a great disappointment to the audience. They wanted to see a large colored Hercules for their money. When time was called, however, and Jackson cast off the coat and glided to the center of the ring his appearance satisfied the most exacting.

He began operations on our fellow townsman in a very quiet manner, as if he did not care to be rude. He began tapping him with lightning like rapidity about the heart and wind, while Mr. Shorty was busy trying to guard his nose.

Seeing his mistake he lowered his guard to the abdominal regions and then Mr. Jackson quit that claim and began to work about his opponents head. There seemed to be a painful lack of union in the work of these men, that is, painful to Shorty. Shorty seemed always guarding in one place while Jackson was hitting in another. They never seemed to be able to work together. If Mr. Jackson could have communicated to Mr. Shorty, where he intended to hit, Mr. Shorty could have got down there and guarded, but as he did not do so, it seemed impossible to make their dates tally. If Mr. Shorty could have only known more of the prospective destination of the colored gentleman's blows he certainly would have acted differently.

The Carson boxer gradually retreated to his corner and then seemed sorry that the corner was not further away. He sank slowly, under the attentions of the Australian as if he were weary of a day of toil and wanted rest.

When the time-keeper announced that the round had reached its limit Shorty seemed glad to know that the time for temporary repose had come at last, and he went into his chair as if he feared the seat was not reserved and someone else might get it.

In the second round he bounced at Jackson to do some in-fighting. In-fighting is Jackson's picnic, and he concluded to check the boistrousness of his adversary, which he did by sending in a right-bander on his temple, which dropped him across the upper rope as a woman would hang a towel over a clothes line.

The darkey drew back his right to plant another blow, when he saw his adversary was done for, and dropping his hand to his side stepped away. His conduct drew a round of applause from the audience, for they saw probably for the first time, a pugilist who was a humanitarian.

Shorty was game to the last, and the Professor said he was the best boxer he had met so far. During the fight Shorty landed several times, and although beaten, came out of the bout with the reputation of being the only man in the State with sand enough to meet the Australian, and will probably go East with the combination, as Jackson says he can soon make a splendid boxer of him, as he has all the natural essentials.

JOIN THE MUTUAL ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION.—It presents six advantages combined in one system. It pays to members while living, or to their legatees at death. It pays weekly benefits to members in case of sickness or accident. It pays endowments to totally disabled members at their option. It pays advances for funeral expenses when desired. It furnishes a safe deposit for savings, at more than double compound interest.

OLIVER ROBERTS. Agent. Carson City. Nev.

FISH NOTES.—Some perch were taken near the Mexican Dam a few days ago, and perch are beginning to bite lively at Washoe Lake. The Lake is very low and catfish are also biting well. There is to be a lot of Mackanaw trout put in. Carson River soon.

THE DOG SHOW.

It Arrives and Captures the Town.

Yesterday Prof. Norris arrived with his trained dogs. He has thirty-two in all and they follow him over the city with bells to their bodies whose jingle can be heard for blocks. Every where he goes a mob of children follow, shouting and yelling themselves hoarse. There are curs of high and low degree and of all sizes and dispositions. They were quartered in Raycraft's stables and visited by hundreds of people. As they walked along like soldiers, eight abreast, the other dogs of the city slunk into the back alleys in terror. It is the most unique show on the road and is capable of giving a two hours performance. At 4 o'clock to-day a matinee will be given for the school children. In Reno the Opera House was packed with children nearly crazy with excitement. There will also be an exhibition this evening.

N-U-M.—The Chinese chair-mender who goes by the name of "N-u-m, Num," was arrested last Wednesday for discharging firearms in the city limits. He was shooting a small pistol at a mark in Chinatown, and was snatched by the vigilant official.

His fine was one dollar and $10 cost. He raised the money, but when he offered to pay, the Court discovered that the District Attorney's fee had been overlooked, and Num said that he would go to jail before he would stand the raise, on the ground that the District Attorney had not been present during the trial. He was sent to jail for nine days, but Judge Edwards, his attorney, secured his liberation on the grounds that the fine of one dollar was the only part of the sentence he could go to jail on, as the costs could not be utilized to imprison him. The Chinaman was accordingly released after being in jail a day.

NEW TIME TABLE.—Following is the new time-table of the V. & T. R. R., which went into effect Monday: The express train leaves Reno at 8:55 A. M., arrives at Carson 10:10, leaves Carson 10:20, and arrives at Virginia 11:45; returning leaves Virginia at 5:20 P. M., arrives at Carson 6:35, leaves Carson 6:45, and arrives at Reno 8:00. The local train leaves Virginia at 7:30 A. M., arrives at Carson 8:55, leaves Carson 9:30, and arrives at Reno 11:15; returning leaves Reno at 1:45 P. M., arrives at Carson 4:00, leaves Carson 5:10, and arrives at Virginia 6:55.

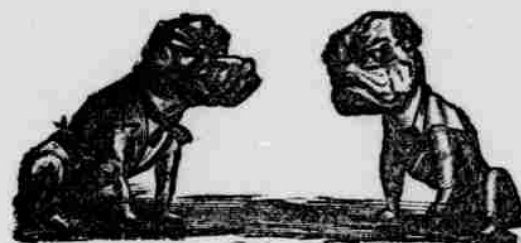

IMPROVEMENTS.—Three new electric light poles have been put up on the outside of the Capitol grounds. They are much better there than they would have been on the inside. The all-night light poles ought to be moved. They are no ornament to the grounds, but look like the arrangement in a circus tent for the bicyclist to ride over or the gymnasts to perform on. The two poles ought to be put together and placed on the outside of the grounds. They would light the building just as well, and light the street also.

Cough! and Cough!! and Cough!!! What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

Advice to Mothers. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.
